The Journal of Pacific Studies (JPacS)

Child of the former School of Social and Economic Development at the University of the South Pacific, JPacS continues as an area studies journal publishing papers reflecting Social Sciences and the Humanities, as well as general (non-technical) papers on aspects of the Physical Sciences and Law. The critical determinant is 'Pacific Studies', rather than particular disciplines, and the emphasis is on aspects of social and economic development, broadly interpreted.

The journal publishes twice a year, in online and print versions.

Views expressed in the journal are those of the respective authors and are not necessarily shared by the Editorial Board, the University of the South Pacific or the institutions to which the authors are affiliated.

The JPacS Editorial Board expresses gratitude to the Faculty of Business and Economics at the University of the South Pacific for generously housing the journal for 2006.
